

KITCHEN CUT LEADING THE WAY WITH NEW GATEWAY!

Kitchen CUT launches new product to revolutionise the supplier/vendor relationship.

Kitchen CUT are excited to have launched their ground breaking new Supplier Gateway, an innovative, free global trading platform, built specifically for hospitality suppliers and vendors.

For suppliers, it's fast, easy-to-use and completely accessible, offering instant integration with customers; for vendors, it cuts the cost of trading, simplifies the supply chain, and makes the whole purchasing process cheaper, more time efficient and more transparent.

In a recent survey of F&B suppliers in the UK, over 75% of respondents said that their single biggest frustration about using third party systems was being forced to pay additional charges for trading with their own customers. With the new Gateway, that is all about to change.

The Kitchen CUT Gateway is a completely FREE service, encouraging fair trade, industry growth, shared success and ultimately a sustainable service level to our restaurant customers; all of whom share the pressure in a tough financial market.

Talking about the product launch, Simon Haynes, Kitchen CUT's CTO, said: "The KC Gateway is a brand new service, providing instant integration and a direct link to suppliers. We know managing product price changes, online ordering and transactional processing takes up valuable time and so we developed the Gateway as a time-saving and efficient solution to benefit both operators and suppliers."

The Gateway is the latest innovation from Kitchen CUT, a system that helps to transform every element of an F&B business allowing control wherever you are, with access from any device. The full Purchase-to-Pay system includes features such as Supplier Management, Allergen Tracking, Nutritional Analysis, Recipe Costing & Menu Planning, Stock Control, Wastage Tracking and Buffet Analysis among many others. Kitchen CUT combines an understanding of operational pressures with insightful and detailed financial performance reporting, whatever the size of your business - from a single unit, to a multi-site operation that spans different regions or even countries.

With a packed development plan and even more technological advances planned for 2018 into 2019, there are more exciting things to come from Kitchen CUT.

Suppliers can book a free demonstration of the Kitchen CUT Gateway by emailing suppliers@kitchencut.com, call +44 (0) 330 113 0050 or visit www.kitchencut.com to find out more and sign up for a free trial.
